Morning Announcements for
Tuesday, December 4, 2012
Week 2 in the School Calendar

- Power2Be:

  Power2Be leaders will be at NSMS on Thursday at lunch to promote and explain their year-round outdoor education program. The program runs a variety of outdoor activities approximately once a month including rock climbing, kayaking, and hiking. The program is looking for a few enthusiastic NSMS grade 8 students that would be interested in committing to the four year program.
  You are invited to attend the meeting on Thursday, December 6 th .Bring your lunch to room 208 (Mrs. Shantz homeroom) to learn about this exciting program. Bring your questions.

- YAC Shack is open again today at lunch. Great new stuff arriving daily! Working today in the YAC Shack are: Faith, Maya, and Aria.

- The Great Coin Drive is under way! Please bring lots of coins in to your homeroom class to help support the work of Santa's Anonymous in our community. A YAC member will visit your class to provide further details. Class bringing in the most cash wins a special Christmas treat from the Youth in Action Club. Winning class to be announced at the Dec. 17th assembly. Homeroom teachers: please visit "shared", "teachers" "Paquette" "Santa's Anonymous link" to show a short video clip. Thank you!

- Block 4 Home Ec class - please go to Mrs. McDonnell's room for class today.

- From the library: December's bookmark is sweet - candy canes! If you took out a book yesterday, and for the rest of this month, you can pick one up at the library, starting today.